

More FUN ways to celebrate the feast of the Prophet Elijah!

Make Elijah Cupcakes to remember the Showdown on Mount Carmel!

Your favorite cupcake and frosting recipe are best. Make the cupcakes according to the usual recipe and allow them to cool completely. Frost the with blue-tinted frosting first; this is to represent the water that Elijah threw over the sacrifice before he prayed. Then arrange some pretzel sticks like the firewood and pipe some orange frosting on top to make the flames!

Trick out your Bicycle to look like a chariot
of fire!

Remember that Elijah was taken up to heaven in a fiery chariot? Take some yellow, orange, and red crepe paper and decorate YOUR chariot too!

Weave the ribbons between the spokes of the wheels and then make streamers for your handle-bars! Maybe even tape a few to the back of your helmet so you can make a trail of crepe-paper-flames behind you as you ride!! Keep in mind that many churches bless vehicles of all kinds on the feast of the Prophet Elijah! Ask your priest about it! Maybe you can bring your bike!!

Would you like a raven to bring you your snack?

Make this cute raven out of a few black paper plates and fill it with some crackers, fruit, or cereal snacks! Use two dinner-size plates, (be sure to get the plastic kind that are black on BOTH sides!), and two black and one yellow dessert-size plates to make your raven. You'll need two googly-eyes as well. Cut and arrange your materials like this, then staple, glue, or tape all the pieces into place and fill with snacks!

Keep in mind that you can find God best in the quiet stillness of your innermost being. Remember that Elijah did not find God in the loud and powerful events of nature, but only when he quieted himself down afterward and had nothing else to distract him. Find a quiet place where you can go to be alone with God in nature and listen for His small, still voice inside your own heart!
